

EASTERN COLORADO 2012 RANGE AND DROUGHT CLINIC

Colorado State University Extension, in cooperation with the National Drought Mitigation Center and the Risk Management Agency, is proud to bring you the Eastern Colorado 2012 Range and Drought Clinic.

This clinic will provide information on managing drought risk on the ranch, drought planning, forage and livestock management during drought, financial considerations in drought risk management, as well as an overview of pasture, rangeland, and forage insurance.

We will also provide information on the regional climate outlook, basic ruminant nutrition, what drives forage intake in ruminants, nutrition of eastern Colorado grasses, opportunities in the replacement heifer segment of beef production systems, pointers for grazing in wetland/riparian areas, enterprise budgets, mortality composting, swath grazing, and limited irrigation grass forage production.

The clinic will be held in Burlington, Colorado from 8 am to 5 pm on Tuesday July 31st at the Burlington Community and Education Center, 340 S. 14th St., Burlington, Colorado, 80807. The fee for the clinic is $20 per person, $25 per couple, or $5 for a student. Lunch will be provided.

To register for the clinic, see the complete agenda, and see the list of speakers visit us on the web at www.range.colostate.edu or call (719) 346-5571 for more details.

Extension programs are available to all without discrimination. Colorado State University Extension, U.S. Department of Agriculture and Colorado counties cooperating.

You don't want to miss this clinic!

www.range.colostate.edu